Call for Candidates for the 2016 EuPA Young Investigator Prize (PhD)

EuPA-YIP

The European Proteomics Association (www.eupa.org) hereby announces a call for candidates for the EuPA Young Investigator Prize to be awarded at the 10th EuPA Annual Congress from 21-25 June 2016, in Istanbul, Turkey (www.eupa2016.org). A special session will be dedicated to presentations, which will be given by the finalists selected from the submitted abstracts. After the presentations, the winner will be selected by a panel of EuPA experts, and awarded with €1.000, sponsored by the Journal of Proteomics, as well as a EuPA certificate. The winner of the EuPA Young Investigator Prize will also be announced in the major proteomics journals.

Eligibility

To qualify, candidates must have started or obtained their PhD or MD degree not later than three years before the time of submission. They must be a member of a EuPA affiliated society and working in a European laboratory. Candidates can either be nominated by senior researchers or by a EuPA affiliated national proteomics society, which has paid its membership fees for 2015 to the European Proteomics Association.

Submission

EuPA-YIP candidates should register for the EuPA 2016 Istanbul Congress, submit an abstract and attend. Abstract submission is now open at www.eupa2016.org. In order to qualify, the abstract, together with two letters of support by senior scientists should be submitted to the EuPA secretary, Dr. Christian Kleinhammer [c.kleinhammer@aon.at] no later than May 16th, 2016. EuPA-YIP finalists will be selected to hold a presentation and will be notified prior to the conference. Those not selected as YIP finalists will be further treated as normal conference registrants.
